THE COURT'S REMARKS.

case had been set down for hearing, a forty pound iron safe and various the dismissal would have been barred, for this time.

Without waiting for any further suggestions, Judge Humphreys began: I think it may be conceded as elementary that the complainants in a bill in equity have control of their complaint tence. It was very clearly proven that even after the answer has been filed, and the defendant had carried off the safe that the dismissal of such bill lies almost from the residence of Mrs. Bertha wholly in their pleasure and discretion. When, however, a petition is filed requesting the appointment of a receiver for a corporation, and the defendants answer and join in the request that the receiver be appointed, after such appoint-ment is made, the dismissal of the bill would not, I apprehend, relieve the re-ceiver of any responsibility, or duty or power which be may possess under his appointment. Parties may dismiss their bills but the attempt to dismiss the re-ceiver is an attempt to dismiss the court, and cannot be done except with the conand cannot be done except with the con-sent of the court. Very many matters, as far as I have been able to carry them in my head from the reading of the affidavit attached to the motion herein are true, and it will be the pleasure of the court to sign an order approving the dis-

The boy told a rather sensational story in trying to procure a light senfrom the residence of Mrs. Bertha Hough, from whom he also had stoler several articles of wearing apparel. Mr. Bigelow, who defended, pleaded for a light sentence, saying that the defencountable for the crime charged against him. Mr. Douthitt protested against light punishment, stating that the boy had been arrested before and that the thievery now going on in the city was directly traceable to the Porto Ricans, and the only way to stop it was to impose severe punishment, when they were caught and convicted of crime. Judge Robinson closely questioned the defendant through an interpreter before passing sentence. The boy said missal of the bill, and discharging the receiver upon the payment of his proper
